any exist. Every year, the feedback committee conducts a student feedback exercise. We have a framework in place to collect input on infrastructure from students as well as subject-specific teachers. This is a 5-point scale feedback that assesses aspects such as subject knowledge, expression, teaching aids used methodology, and other factors that are analyzed by our management in order to make suitable decisions about infrastructure and teacher quality. All students are asked to provide alumni input and exit feedback. We can tell if the right teaching learning process is in place by looking at these forms. This technique also allows the institute to improve in areas where it is needed. Every semester, older faculty and topic specialists evaluate junior faculties and provide feedback to the faculties so that they can improve their skills. Feedback is an important instrument for ensuring that the quality of education continues to improve. Students provide input so that it can be analyzed and implemented to meet their requirements. Experts and external examiners are also consulted for comments on the quality of our students. Probationers and regular faculty are counseled for the gaps based on faculty input. We take corrective efforts to close the loop based on the above feedback and suggestions.

2.3.2 - Students mentoring system available in the institution? Give details. (maximum 500 words)

From 2017 to 2018, a mentoring system was implemented at our college in order to improve and strengthen the relationship between students and teachers, as well as to continuously observe, counsel, and guide students in educational and personal matters. Every teacher serves as a mentor to the trainees they are assigned to. Students should be able to trust their mentors. This is a continuous process that continues until the student completes his or her academic career. Student mentoring has the following goals: • To improve student attendance and academic performance. • Reduce the number of dropouts among students. • To improve the relationship between the teacher and the students. • Keep track of the students attendance and behavior. • To inform parents about their childrens attendance and regularity. The IQAC had taken the initiative in establishing student mentoring. Students are classified according to their academic streams as well as their core subjects. They are divided into 10-15 student groups. Mentors: After gathering all necessary information, maintain and update the mentoring format. Mentors are expected to provide advice and counselling whenever it is needed. Mentors usually meet with students one-on-one or in small groups. On the mentors recommendation, parents are called for counselling and a special meeting with the principal in rare cases. It is the mentors responsibility to inform the concerned subject teacher if a student is identified as having a weakness in a particular subject. Mentors schedule at least three to four meetings with their mentees each semester. Despite the fact that the system has only been in place for a few years, there has been a significant improvement in the teacher-student relationship. This system has been useful in identifying slow and advanced learners, and the college has organized Remedial Classes in identified topics based on a careful examination of each mentors report. At least once a month, the HOD will meet with all of his or her departments mentors to review the systems paper implementation. Mentors should be consulted whenever possible. In our institution, we provide the following types of mentoring: • Professional Guidance - In terms of professional goals, career choices, and postsecondary education. • Career Advancements - In terms of self- employment, entrepreneurship, opportunities, morale, honesty, and integrity, all of which are necessary for career advancement. • Coursework Specific - In terms of current semester attendance and performance, as well as overall performance the previous semester. • Lab-Specific - Dos and Do not in the laboratory and library system

CRITERION VI – GOVERNANCE, LEADERSHIP AND MANAGEMENT

6.1 – Institutional Vision and Leadership

6.1.1 - Mention two practices of decentralization and participative management during the last year (maximum 500 words)

Shiva College has created a system of decentralization and participative management in the governance for facilitation of decision making and effective outcome. Adequate powers and autonomy are given to Heads of the Institutes/Departments /Sections to this effect. The institute promotes a culture of participative management by involving the staff and students in various activities. All decisions of the institution are governed by facts, information's and objectives. Both students and faculty are allowed to give any feedback and suggestions to appropriate authorities. The administrative officers and faculty members are involved in defining the policies and procedures, framing guidelines and rules regulations pertaining to admission, placement, discipline, grievance, counseling, training development, library services etc. Students also play a role in conduction of academic events such as conferences, seminars, workshops and extracurricular activities. Faculty members are given representations in various committees/cells, their leadership skills are honed by making them heads/members of various academic, cocurricular, and extracurricular committees/cells. All the committees and cells have operational autonomy. Parents and Alumni are also considered in the decision making process. Academic Autonomy: Academic autonomy is offered to all the constituent Institutes. Academic Council and other such academic bodies of the institution are given the power to design, implement, monitor and evaluate academic. All the academic bodies are composed of teaching faculty along with external experts. The constituent institutes have freedom to decide on academic issues like curriculum, instructional material, postgraduate didactics and their quality assurance. Students are empowered to express their academic concerns through mentorship program. Administrative Autonomy: Administrative autonomy is given to all constituent institutes and administrative departments which reflect in Alumni Associations, Purchase and Maintenance committee etc. for the optimum output.
